FIFTY-SEVEN EXTRA TRAINS

Sight Seekers Push Railroad
Hard for Train Service to Salem.

In order to handle the large number of people who went to Salem to view the fire ruins on Sunday last, the Boston and Maine was obliged to run 57 extra passenger trains to meet the heavy traffic.

It also required the services of six ticket sellers in the offices of the railroad at Lynn and Salem. Should Sunday next be a fair day it is expected that a large crowd will visit the stricken city.

JEFFERSON CLUB LOVE FEAST

Political Camp Fire at New Castle July 12.

The long talked of political love feast by the Jefferson Club, a democratic organization of this city, will be held at New Castle on July 12. Plans for the outing have been under way for several weeks and crowds are anxious to get down to the seaside village and take it over. On this occasion Oliver D. Marvin, a live wire in the democratic camp, will be the host and the feast will be held on the grounds surrounding his picturesque bungalow.

The "Jeffs" say something will be moving every minute and some of the big fellows who have their hats in the ring will have to come down to the camp and tell them just where they are at.

KITTERY MAN GETS THE APPOINTMENT

Governor Haines Names Elmer J. Burnham for Register.

Attorney Elmer J. Burnham of Kittery has been appointed as register of deeds for York county, Maine, to fill out the unexpired term of the late Howard Brackett, who died in January last. Mr. Burnham, who assumed the duties of that office on Wednesday, is the republican candidate for this office at the coming election. Having received the nomination through the primaries, it was by virtue of this nomination that Governor Haines made the appointment.

SHONTELL SEEKS NOMINATION

Manchester Man Will be Candidate for Republican Congressional Plum in Primaries

Frederick W. Shontell of Manchester on Wednesday announced himself as a candidate for the republican congressional nomination.

In making his announcement Mr. Shontell gave out the following announcement:

"To the voters of the first congressional district.

"Those familiar with recent events will recall that at the last election the forces opposed to what is now the administration were divided between two candidates. Both stood for protection of American industries and together polled a considerable majority of the votes in the district. Some of my friends are confident my candidacy will be helpful in substantially rejoining, on this issue, the divided forces of the last campaign, and I would do less than my plain duty if I did not respond to such an opportunity for service.

"This is not and never has been a free trade district, which leads me to feel that our present representative cannot be in accord with a majority of the voters. The result of recent tariff legislation is apparent in all industries at the present time and the list of unemployed is becoming greater. This district is largely dependent for its industrial prosperity upon the textile and shoe manufacturing interests, and both have suffered by the radical changes in the tariff.

"I believe fully in a protective tariff sufficient to equal the difference in labor costs here and abroad. I believe that the Democratic promises to reduce the cost of living have utterly failed and that no relief can expect to compensate for the injury the present tariff is inflicting on business and employment.

However important as the tariff question is to prosperity, of equal importance is the question of government control and regulation of interstate business. There must be, if prosperity is to be restored, a distinct understanding as to what is just and equitable in business conduct and what is not.

"I believe that our federal laws touching the supervision and control of big business should be revised and administered as to make absolutely plain what constitutes restraint of trade and other practices in the business world which are regarded as illegal. I hold that the only manner in which such laws can be effectively administered is through the creation of an interstate trade commission, somewhat similar in character to the present interstate commerce commission, this commission to have supervisory and regulative authority over business of an interstate character. But control of business in this, or in any other manner must be taken in a tolerant and broad minded spirit which recognizes the rights of the producer, no less than the rights of the consumer, and the rights of capital, no less than the rights of labor.

"If I should be elected to congress, I should go to Washington, not as a representative of any class or faction, but rather as the representative of every interest in my district, public or private, rich or poor, powerful or obscure. I should try to approach my legislative duties with an open mind concerned only that I discharge those duties as to best serve the interest of the people of this district.

"As I have said I enter this campaign not, I hope, in a spirit of self-seeking, but in an honest desire to serve. If my candidacy appeals to a majority of the voters of this district and I am elected to congress, I shall give to that task the best that is in me of loyalty, sincerity and industry. In an effort to adequately and efficiently represent my constituents."

AGAINST THE RAILROAD

Supreme Court Gives Decision Favoring the Plaintiff.

The supreme court has decided against the defendant in the case of Caverhill vs. Boston and Maine railroad. The case was for negligently causing the plaintiff intestate who was employed as a section man by the defendants. Trial by jury before Young, J. The plaintiff relief upon the Federal Employer's Liability Act. The deceased was struck and killed by one of two trains which passed each other at the spot where he was at work. If the engineer of either train had used ordinary care the accident would not have happened. The defendants' motions for a nonsuit and a directed verdict were denied subject to exception. The defendants' exception to the argument is stated in the opinion.

Eastman, Seamon & Gardner, for the plaintiff.

RABBIS REJECT NEW HANDBOOK

Nearly Unanimous Vote Against the Report.

Detroit, July 1.—The Radical Reform element in the Central Conference of American rabbis overruled the conservative faction today when the conference meeting here voted down a committee report with reference to a new handbook of worship.

Rabbi Kaufman Kohler, president of the Hebrew Union College of Cincinnati, and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York were among those who led the opposition to the report.

A year ago a committee was formed to prepare a revised handbook which would contain new uniform prayers, hymns and ceremonies for the church as well as retain some of the basic forms of worship which the orthodox Jews have followed.

When the report had been read, Rabbi Wise and others denounced it as conforming too closely to the conservative opinions of the old church, and claimed it was a step backward instead of forward.

The report was voted down almost unanimously and the subject was turned over to the executive committee of the conference and another report will be made in 1915.

RETURNED HOME.

Members of House Party Have Enjoyable Time During Sojourn at Beach.

The house party made up of a group of local High School girls, who have been enjoying two weeks at the Odierne cottage at Rye North Beach, have returned home.

The party consisted of the following popular young ladies:

Nathalie Clark, Phyllis Phinney, Frances McCarthy, Madeline Paul, Ruth Weaver, Helen Newton, Gertha Chapman, Dorothy Douglas, Doris Kaula and Merle Smith.

The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Young and Mrs. Tucker. Every one reported a delightful sojourn.

ENTERTAINED AT CARDS.

Mrs. Asa Craig Gives Bridge Party at Her Summer Home at Newington.

Mrs. Asa Craig entertained her friends at auction on Tuesday afternoon at her summer cottage at Rollins Farm, on the Newington shore.

Four tables were in play and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Andrew Caswell first, and to Mrs. George W. Stillman second.

At the conclusion of cards a delicate luncheon of lobster salad, rolls, olives, fancy crackers, calico, ice, fruit punch and coffee was served by the hostess.

A most delightful afternoon was enjoyed by all present.

CLAIM WAR HAS BEEN AVERTED

Mediators Say That Terms Have Been Reached With Mexico.--
Now Await Agreement Between Mexican Factions

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 1.—Ambassador De Guma of Brazil today formally announced the practical settlement of the conflict between the United States and Mexico.

He explained that while mediation would take an indefinite recess awaiting the outcome of efforts by representatives of the two Mexican factions to solve the internal problem of Mexico, the task of mediation was not yet concluded though an essential part of its work had been accomplished.

The ambassador spoke at a luncheon given by the three mediators to the newspaper correspondents. The entire American and Mexican delegations to the mediation conference were present and the remarks of Mr. de Guma after careful revision, were made public later, constituting a formal statement of the work of mediation thus far.

"It is a source of satisfaction for me," said the ambassador to be able to say that one of the essential points of our program, that dealing with the international side of the conflict is practically settled.

"This does not imply that we go home with our task concluded, but we feel so far we have averted war. We have established also through agreement between the parties, most directly interested and in complete harmony with the sentiments of the government of the United States, that it is a principle of American policy to have our national problems always given a fair examination and settled without foreign interference.

"We understand that if such a result has been attained, we shall have created a more favorable atmosphere in international politics in America."

Mr. de Guma called attention to his speech to the fact that President Wilson had personally informed the mediators before they left Washington that the only way to solve Mexico's problem was to add the contending parties in Mexico to reach an agreement among themselves, thus obtaining a Mexican solution on the Mexican question.

In this manner the ambassador revealed that the course which mediation now has taken was in President Wilson's mind from the beginning.

The speech served also as a definition for the world generally of the hitherto unsettled status of mediation. The mediators tonight formally acknowledged the latest note from General Carranza, transmitted by Rafael Zubizarain, his representative in Washington. The answer expressed the appreciation of the mediators for the friendly sentiments towards peace uttered by Carranza and is most courteously phrased. It will be made public tomorrow, together with the Zubizarain communication.

The American delegates today received word from Washington to leave here when they thought advisable, but they will be the last to go.

The Huerta delegates received formal instructions from their government giving them plenary powers to discuss the internal questions with constitutional delegates. Should no definite word be received by Friday or Saturday some of the Huerta delegates will go to New York to stay.

Minister Anson after his conference in Washington with Louis Cabern, expects to telegraph the Huerta delegates some definite idea of the time when the informal conference will be convened.

BLACKMAILER GETS 15 YEARS

Threatened to Blow Up Ship
Unless He Received
$10,000.

New York, July 1.—Joseph Burton, the negro who was recently captured in a spectacular attempt to blackmail the Cunard Steamship company, was today sentenced to 15 years in Sing Sing prison.

Burton sent letters to officials of the line threatening that unless a package containing $10,000 was thrown from the back platform of an express train in New Jersey in response to a green light he would flash beside the track, he would blow up one of the company's big steamers. The company engaged a special train to follow close behind the express and when a detective found a decoy package from the train ahead both trains stopped and let off detectives who captured Burton when he ran out of hiding to get the package.

Officials of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad had received about the same time a blackmailing letter threatening the destruction of a train with dynamite. The handwriting in this communication and the letter to the Cunard line was the same, according to pattern photography experts.

Many of the visiting druggists who have been at the Westworth the past two days returned home this morning.

GERMAN OPINION OF THE UNITED STATES NAVY

Berlin, July 1.—America's Navy Department lives from hand to mouth not knowing what ships will be available next year, and for this reason the department is unable to follow consequent plans for the future, either as to organization or disposition of fighting strength.

This is only one of the criticisms contained in Germany's official marine annual, "Nauticus, 1914," which has just been issued.

In its review of foreign fleets, it declares that the upholding of the United States Navy has been hampered by lack of a definite program. As a consequence, the Nauticus adds, questions of the country's defense, which should stand outside parliamentary contentions, have been drawn into party politics and the opportunities for advancement of young marine officers have been made so unpromising at present that an entire change in personnel appears unavoidable.

The Nauticus declares that the Mexican troubles hampered the proper training of officers and men of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets.

The past year the Nauticus says, was favorable for Germany's marine interests, and the opening of the Panama Canal will find Germany ready to take advantage of the new route without any subsidy, whereas, the annual assets, the Italians and French consider themselves unable to use the canal without state help.

AMERICANS ARE STILL IN THE ENGLISH RACES

Hendon, "Thames Regatta, July 1.—Drooping but weather greeted the opening day of the Royal Regatta and found tens of thousands of lovers of aquatic sports gathered along the banks of the Thames. The river near the shores was crowded with houseboats and launches occupied by officers of the army and navy and prominent society people, and also in many cases by Americans who had come to watch the performances of the numerous American entrants for the various events.

Today's program was largely taken up with the elimination heats of the Diamond Sculls, the entrants including Paul Whittington, Dr. James B. Ayer and William Tudor Gardner of the Union Boat Club of Boston, and Robert Dibble, amateur champion of America, from the Don Rowing Club of Toronto.

For the Grand Challenge cup the foreign entries included the Harvard second crew and the Union Boat Club of Boston, from the United States, and the Winnipeg Rowing Club from Canada.

The American crews and scullers were out on the water early for tuning up spins. They seemed to revel in the heat, which was surely felt by the British rowers.

Both Harvard and Boston appeared to be at the top of their form, and English experts admitted today that they feared for the results of tomorrow's heats in the Grand Challenge Cup between Harvard and Leander and Boston and London, respectively.

Leander, which usually improves at the last minute, was doing better today than it had been since D. I. Day, who rowed bow in the Cambridge boat in this year's race against Oxford, had replaced R. C. Bourne, formerly of Oxford, at stroke. Leander and Jesus College, Cambridge, are England's hopes for the retention of the Grand Challenge cup. Among the Americans present at the opening were Robert P. Herrick and family of Boston.

Dr. Ayer Won a Heat
Dr. James B. Ayer of the Union Boat Club beat R. Gould of New Zealand and Jesus College, Cambridge, in the fourth heat of the Diamond Sculls by two lengths. His time was 3m 44s.

Ayer, although he steered an erratic course at the end, won his heat easily.

The entries total 73 crews and scullers, which is up to the usual average, although this year shows a scarcity of four-oared crews and only a small representation of the Oxford colleges.

Thirty-five crews are competing for the three-eight-oar events, which are the Grand Challenge Cup, the Ladies' Plate and the Thomas Challenge Cup.

The Grand Challenge Cup is the big event of the regatta, and eight crews are entered for this. They are the present holder, the Leander Club; Harvard second crew, Jesus College (Cambridge); the London Rowing Club; the Mayence Rowing Club of Germany; the Thames Rowing Club; the Union Boat Club of Boston and the Winnipeg Rowing Club of Canada.

The entries for the Stewards' Challenge Cup are the Grasshopper Club, Zurich, Switzerland; Leander Club; Mayence Rowing Club, Mayence, Ger.; and Thames Rowing Club. The entries for the Diamond Sculls are:

G. T. Allen, Newry Rowing Club, Ireland; R. W. M. Arbuthnot, third Trinity, Cambridge; J. B. Ayer, Union Boat Club, Boston; R. Dibble, Don Rowing Club, Toronto; G. C. Fripp, Agecroft Rowing Club, Manchester; W. T. Gardner, Union Boat Club, Boston; D. H. L. Gallan, Thames Rowing Club; R. Gould, Jesus College, Cambridge; E. D. P. Hanks, London Rowing Club; P. F. V. Scrutton, Vikings Club, Roskilde, Denmark; Carlo Club, Como, Italy; B. LeBlanc Smith, third Trinity, Cambridge; C. M. Stuart, Trinity Hall, Cambridge; J. Lawrence Tenn, Thames Rowing Club; E. G. Williams, Vikings Club; Paul Whittington, Union Boat Club, Boston.

Dibble Won—Pinks Beaten.
Robert Dibble of the Don Rowing Club, Toronto, amateur sculling champion of America, beat P. F. V.

Scrutton, of the Vikings Club in their heat in the Diamond Sculls.

Gardiner Eliminated.
C. C. Fripp of Manchester, Eng., beat William Tudor Gardner of Boston in the seventh heat of the Diamond Sculls.

Dibble won his heat by three lengths in the slow time of 3m 46s, while Fripp won by two lengths in 3m 17s.

J. Lawrence Tenn of the Thames Rowing Club beat Paul Whittington of the Union Boat Club, Boston, in the eighth heat of the Diamond Sculls. Tenn won by a length and a quarter in 3m 24s.

OLD SHELL EXPLODED WITH SERIOUS EFFECT

Brookton, July 1.—Thomas Wayne Cook, aged 26, was killed and Stephen Frank Reed, aged 29, was maimed for life when a six-pound rapid-fire percussion shell exploded today.

Cook's death was instantaneous. Reed was rushed to the Brookton hospital, where three hours are left for his life. His right hand was blown off and his left hand is badly mangled.

The force of the explosion wrecked the house at 258 Crescent street, where the two men lived. The detonation was heard all over the city and for miles about. Both men were married.

The shell was a relic of the Revolution in China for the overthrow of the imperial dynasty. It was brought home by Cook, who at that time was a sailor on the U. S. S. Helder, one of the international fleet, then stationed in Chinese waters. Cook had served in the navy seven years.

The explosion was caused by the attempt of the two men, who were working in the cellar of the house, to remove the fuse plug from the shell. They planned to convert the brass case of the shell and that of another like it into parlor ornaments. Cook had six of the shells, which he brought home from China.

FARMERS WILL BE ABLE TO BORROW MILLIONS

Representative Glass Explains Advantages Under New Federal Banking Act.

Farmers of the United States will have the benefit of borrowing capacity of $350,000,000, which had been denied them heretofore, if they will take advantage of the new federal reserve act, according to Representative Glass, chairman of the banking and currency committee of the House. The Glass statement is also a challenge to the claim of the members of the House who believe that there is a pressing need for the immediate enactment of a rural credits bill. The statement was made in reply to Representative Longworth of Connecticut, who had been asked by many farmer constituents and country bankers as to the effect of the law in certain localities.

Representative Glass' statement says:

"Answering your inquiry in regard to the amount of farm credits made available under the new federal reserve act, I desire to state that Charles A. Glass, chairman of the banking and currency committee of the House, computes that the long-mooted provision of the act affords credit facilities to the amount of $350,000,000 from the national banks alone. Those banks, as you know, have heretofore been denied the privilege of making loans on farm lands.

"The reallocation provisions of the federal reserve act furnish authorized operations of all kinds. In short, after the system is fully inaugurated no bank will have any excuse for refusing loans to farmers who may present well secured paper of six months' maturity based on agricultural transactions already consummated or in contemplation. The amount of the credit afforded by the provisions of the bill has been estimated at several billions of dollars.

"For the largest agricultural operations such as are involved in the exportation of farm products, the new federal reserve act furnishes extended credit facilities, making it possible for the American farmer to get his money at once on drafts for produce exported, instead of having to wait, as has hitherto been the case, until the return is made from abroad.

Concord, N. H., July 1.—The state Public Service Commission announced today its completion of the new freight rate schedules for the Boston and Maine Railroad, which it was authorized by the Legislature, of 1913 to frame, and upon which it has been engaged just a year.

The railroad has until Oct. 1 to try out the new rates and then must accept them, in which event they will remain as the legal maximum, unless changed by the Legislature, or might reject them, in which event the rates of 1893 go back into effect.

Some minor changes in passenger rates also have been made, but the chief request of the railroad on this time, that it be allowed to raise its mileage book rates, must wait for action by the Legislature of 1915.

Look what we've brought you, mother!—PURITY OATS

Oats more delicious, more digestible, more wholesome than any you have ever eaten. By our exclusive Purity Process, we produce in PURITY OATS a product that even a dyspeptic can eat—the flavor is so greatly improved that every dish of Purity Oats is a real treat.

Purity, cleanliness and quality are the watchword during the entire manufacture of

PURITY OATS

Soil and climate co-operate to produce in northern Iowa the finest flavored oats. From this region we procure the finest of the season's yield. Our modern mills are the cleanest and lightest in the country. Hands never touch the grain. Clean, polished automatic machinery does every bit of the work.

Purity Process is entirely original with us. Machinery of our invention and on which we own and control all the patents, grades and separates the perfectly matured, healthy grains from the small, immature, tasteless and unhealthy grains, without the aid of human hands. These plump, prime, nut-flavored grains, thus carefully selected, and cleaned are perfectly flaked, slightly toasted or parched, perfectly sterilized and packed in glistening white enameled packing rooms into the special Purity Package. This package—original with us—is rigid, paraffin-lined, dust-proof and practically air and moisture proof.

Try a package and enjoy a treat—money back unless they are best

In selling Purity Oats to the grocer we always say, "Write your own guarantee and we'll sign it." We guarantee Purity Oats absolutely to be the best, in every way, you ever bought—the grocer sells to you on that basis. If, for any reason, you cannot buy Purity Oats from your grocer, send us 60 cents, and we will send you a container holding six 10-cent packages of Purity Oats, by mail, postage prepaid.

"It is always safe to buy Purity Oats in large quantities."

Regular Size Package 10 cents—Family Size Package, containing four pounds, is the largest package of real good oats ever sold for 25 cents.

Editorial.....28 | Business.....37

Portsmouth, N. H., Thursday, July 2, 1914.

The Abuse of Credit.

Cambridge, Mass., is the home of the Harvard School of Business Administration and, according to the business research bureau of this school, more failures occur in the retail grocery trade than in any other line of business in the country. The report shows that one-fourth of all the commercial failures in 1913 were in that trade.

This will be surprising to many. It is difficult to name a commercial business that is more uniform than the grocery trade. Like death, it has all seasons for its own. There are no off seasons in the grocery business. People must eat the year round, whether business is good or bad, and the largest part of what they eat comes from the grocery store. Excepting fruits and vegetables there is comparatively little in the groceryman's stock which comes under the head of perishable goods. While it is claimed that the profits on sugar and some other standard articles are small, there is a general understanding that the margins on many of the goods handled by grocers admit of a good profit. And the best thing of all is that it is a year-round business, with no shut-downs or depressing slacks at any time.

If such a business as this develops more failures than any other there must be a cause for it, and without doubt this is the credit system, which is the curse not only of the grocery business, but of all other kinds of business at the present time. It is easy to understand how the groceryman is liable to suffer more from the credit system than almost any other business man. His customers are buying necessities. They must eat, even if the bread winner is sick or out of work, and he cannot deny them credit unless they have absolutely ruined their reputation for trustworthiness. Those who have done that have already cost him a good sum. There is no man who pays more for his experience than the groceryman.

And yet he is to some extent to blame for his losses. There is no retail business in which compulsion is keener than in the grocery trade, and the hope of winning customers from others, with the desperate chances taken to avoid the loss of customers, lead to the stretching of credit beyond the point of safety.

The credit system should be greatly modified, in the grocery business and all others. Less credit would be as valuable to buyers as to sellers, for it would result in more judicious buying. There should be less.

In spite of pressure on the part of southerners, President Wilson sticks to his determination to appoint Negroes to succeed Negro officials in Washington, and this stand is altogether to his credit. If the government is to do its share toward elevating and advancing the colored race it must to a reasonable extent recognize it in official life, and the president's determination to do this is to be commended by every man whose judgment is not warped by race prejudice.

Admiral Dewey, the hero of the battle of Manila, will be invited to command his old battleship, "Oregon," on the naval parade through the Panama canal next March, and will undoubtedly do so. Rear Admiral Clark, retired, will be in line with his old flagship, "Olympia," and the parade will be a noteworthy feature of an event of worldwide interest. And it would hardly be complete without Admiral Dewey.

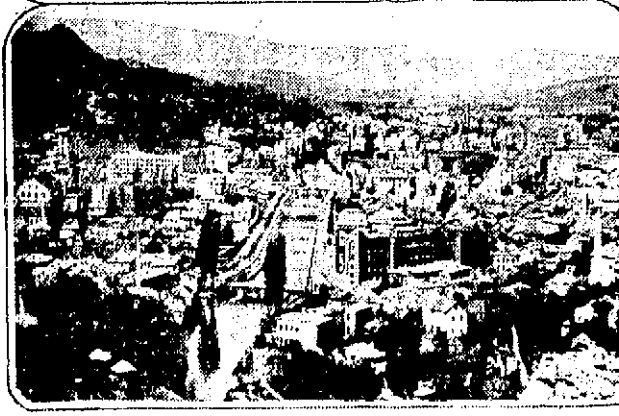

Statewide prohibition went into effect in West Virginia July 1, and there are now nine states in which that condition prevails. Speaker Clark tells the suffragists that votes for women can be obtained sooner through state action than through national, and perhaps the same is true of prohibition. The complete triumph of either cause through either channel is some distance in the future.

Professor Todd of Amherst college is on his way to Russia to view the total eclipse of the sun in August, and is planning to secure the services of an aeronaut to take him above the clouds should the weather be unfavorable. Professor Todd knows something about ballooning and has the nerve requisite for an undertaking of this sort.

In the criticisms of Ambassador George Fred Williams on conditions in Albania the representatives of Turkey and Greece in Washington concur, in which respect they are slightly in advance of the administration.

Let no one intimate that the people of Idaho "don't know beans." In a single "bean belt" in that state there are 6,500 acres and the value of the yield is expected to exceed $185,000.

Victims of Double Assassination, Their Children, Scene of Tragedy.

Photos by American Press Association.

The assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife at Sarajevo, Bosnia, plunged the Austro-Hungarian empire into a ferment of political discussion. It was claimed that the double assassination of the heir to the throne of Austria-Hungary and his wife was really a Serbian plot. Martial law was declared in Sarajevo, where the mobs became frantic with anti-Austrian feeling after the assassination. In the illustration are shown the two victims and their children, who were dislodged from the throne by the war which followed. Also a general view of Sarajevo is shown.

RUSH HAMPTON BEACH CHURCH

$20,000 Catholic House of Worship May Be Dedicated in July.

The new St. Patrick's Catholic church at Hampton Beach is practically finished so far as the outer wood-work is concerned, and it is believed that the dedicatory services will be held during the latter part of July. The new edifice is one of the most pretentious beach churches on the north coast, and when finished will entail a cost of $20,000. It is located on the north end of the beach at Highland park, an ideal site. The architectural design is of Gothic, and a tower 400 feet high will rise from the north corner of the front of the building. The exterior measurements of the building are 92 feet long and 60 feet wide, and the seating capacity will be in the neighborhood of 800.

The new church is a mission of St. Michael's church, Exeter, and the erection of the church is under the supervision of Rev. J. P. Scott, pastor of St. Michael's, who has pushed forward the plans for the structure with remarkable zeal.

The large Catholic population at Hampton Beach has been obliged for many years to worship in one of the beach theatres, but the congregation has grown so rapidly that even these assembling places have become inadequate. For that reason it became

MAKE CHANGE IN FREIGHT RATES

Boston and Maine Has Until Oct. 1 to Test Out New Tariff.

Concord, July 1.—Following a year's conference, the public service commission has practically completed the work of establishing a new freight rate schedule on the Boston and Maine lines in New Hampshire. In statements given out it appears that the only unfinished business is the proposed increase in passenger mileage rates, which is a legislative consideration, and a few matters of minor interest.

The work of considering the freight rate schedules was taken up on July 1, 1913, following authorization by the legislature. Since that date, numerous hearings have been held and much data submitted for the consideration of the board. Mr. Rantoul states that it is quite impossible to give the average percentage of increase in freight rates, allowed by the board, as in equalizing the several schedules, one section had to stand quite a large increase, while other shippers enjoyed a decrease from existing rates.

According to the law, the Boston and Maine will have until Oct. 1 to test the new schedule, and any defects found may be corrected by the commission. After Oct. 1, no change in the rates may be made without consent of the legislature.

The law further orders that the railroad must agree to the schedules in form prescribed by the legislature prior to Oct. 1. Failure on the part of the road to do this will mean the operation of schedules fixed by the laws of 1883 and 1889, and the law further provides that in the event of the acceptance of the schedule, it shall be unlawful for any railroad corporation to impose or collect from any passenger or shipper any rates for fares and freights in excess of the maximum schedules so fixed. Failure of the corporation in this instance offers an opportunity for redress on the part of the party wronged.

OBITUARY

George W. Robinson

George W. Robinson, for many years a ship caulker at the Portsmouth navy yard, died yesterday afternoon at his home at 360 Central street in East Manchester at the age of 83 years. He was one of the oldest men in that city.

Mr. Robinson came of distinguished lineage. His grandfather was given a grant of 600 acres of land in Jefferson, Me., for valiant services in the Revolutionary war and the land was named after the author of the Declaration of Independence. His father and he were both born on this land. He is survived by his wife, three sons, Forrest of Bristol, Me.; Frank of Bedford and Wilder; two daughters, Mrs. George W. Clark and Mrs. Norris C. Page; and a sister, Mrs. Nancy Montfort of Brunswick, Me.

Thomas F. Lonergan

Thomas Lonergan, a well known resident of Maplewood avenue, passed away on Wednesday after a short illness, at the state hospital.

Deceased was a native of Chicago and for a while resided in Salem, Mass., later coming to this city where he was employed for many years by the former Portsmouth Shoe Company as a cutter. He was a most faithful worker wherever employed.

His death brings much sorrow to a wide circle of friends he made since becoming a resident of this city.

He was 44 years of age and survived by two sons and two daughters and a sister who resides in Salem. His funeral will be held on Friday morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

CURRENT OPINION

Good Teacher Never Has Truants for Any Length of Time.

My theory is that a good teacher never has truants in her class, at least not for any length of time. We have over a hundred men chasing kids all over the town who won't go to school, and the blame to a great extent is up to the teachers and the principals of the schools from which the truants play hooky.

Let the teacher who is suspicious of a boy get to his home before noon, and she'll break the heart of the truant. Any boy, or girl, for that matter, who is found out two or three hours after he or she goes on the lake will immediately turn over a new leaf. It doesn't pay to play hooky with a teacher who acts so quickly.

If the teacher cannot go to the truant's house herself she usually can find seems a shame the truants are permitted to go on for over twenty-four hours. John H. Walsh, Assistant Superintendent of New York Schools.

RURAL DELIVERY IS CRIPPLED

Letter Carrier Garland Has Resigned Owing to Poor Salary.

Because George E. Garland, rural letter carrier at Hampton Beach for several years, and the Postal department of the United States have failed to reach an agreement relative to the compensation which ought to be paid for mail service at the beach the delivery of all postal matter at that resort has been seriously disorganized and there is a feeling of indignation among the beach residents at what they claim has been gross negligence on the part of the postal department.

Garland has been in charge of the beach deliveries for several years and made trips daily from Hampton to the beach, carrying the mail and delivering it at practically every house at the resort. The growing population at the beach added greatly to his burdens until his deliveries in one month totaled 100,000 pieces of mail matter, much of which was parcel post packages. This record was admitted by the post office authorities at Washington to be one of the largest by a single carrier in the entire country.

This spring as the mail matter commenced to increase with the growth of the beach population, Garland protested to the government that his salary of $800, out of which he was obliged to maintain two horses was insufficient and unless different arrangements were made he would cease carrying the mail after a certain date. The department failed to come to an amicable adjustment, and true to his word Garland turned over all the government property to Postmaster E. C. Cole of Hampton and refused further to deliver any mail. This was several weeks ago, and the department was notified at the time of the status of the beach mails, but despite their knowledge of the true condition of things, they have not succeeded in making satisfactory arrangements with anyone for the beach deliveries. Two telegrams have been sent the former carrier asking him if he would withdraw his resignation if certain conditions prevailed, but he has steadfastly refused to return.

The result is that the entire delivery of mails at the beach have stopped and everyone is forced to go to the post office for mail. Loud complaint is heard on every side and it is probable that a meeting will be held at once to determine what can be done to improve the service.

FIND PRISON BAR SAWED THROUGH

Providence, R. I., July 1.—Deputy Sheriff discovered today that a steel bar on a cell window in the Providence county courthouse had been completely sawed through in two places and that part of the bar had been removed. The attempt to escape was probably made on Monday, it was stated, when Edward Carville, who received a sentence of 14 years for shooting a policeman here, was confined in that cell.

The interruption caused by taking Carville upstairs to the court room for sentence probably prevented his escape.

FIFTEEN NAVAL OFFICERS ARE PLUCKED

Navy Board Retires Several Men Distinguished With Service.

Washington July 1.—Fifteen officers several of them captains with distinguished records, ended their active careers today upon the recommendation of the dreaded "plucking board." Secretary Daniels made public the names of those selected for compulsory retirement this year, with a formal announcement that he expected to ask for the repeal of the law of 1889 under which the annual plucking is done.

The officers with their present stations, follow:

Captain John H. Gibbons, commanding battleship Utah.

Captain Frank W. Kellogg, commanding the cruiser North Carolina.

Captain John C. Leonard, commanding battleship Virginia.

Captain Frank K. Hill, army war college, Washington, D. C.

Captain George R. Evans, commanding battleship Nebraska.

Commander George N. Heyward, cutter Hamblet.

Commander John B. Patton, commanding cruiser Tennessee and receiving ship at New York.

Commander Prevoost Rubin, en route to United States from the Asiatic station.

Commander William S. Whitted, in Spector Trump Shippard, Philadelphia.

Lieut. Commander Walter M. Palmer, Collier Leonidas.

Lieut. Commander Moses S. May, in charge of the naval recruiting station, Philadelphia.

Lieut. Commander Karlton R. Keir, gunboat El Cano.

Lieut. Commander John W. Schoenfeld, battleship Minnesota.

Lieut. Frank W. Osborne, Jr., gunboat Castine.

In addition to the plucking board's list, Secretary Daniels announced that the following six officers had been placed on the retired list at their own request:

Captain Harrison A. Blenheim, navy yard, Philadelphia; Commander Emmett R. Pollock, battleship Vermont; Commander Irving W. Gillis, battleship Michigan; Commander Raymond Stone, battleship New Jersey; Commander Simon P. Fullenweider, battleship Connecticut; and Commander Edwin H. De Lany, waiting orders, Washington, D. C.

A number of other officers had asked for voluntary retirement and had all the applications been accepted the board would have been relieved of the necessity of plucking.

But last year the President decided not to permit the voluntary retirement of any officers who had not had twenty years' service after graduating from the naval academy. The law requires the creation of forty vacancies annually, with fifteen compulsory retirements, if necessary.

DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Elect Directors and Hear Report of Work Accomplished--District Nurse Resignation Accepted.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth District Nursing Association was held on Wednesday afternoon, July 1, at the County Court House, 11 State street. The annual report of the association was read and approved. The chairman of the nominating committee, Rev. Mr. Gooding, presented the names of the following persons for election to the Board of Managers for the ensuing year: Miss Frances A. Mathis, Miss Stella C. Webster, Mrs. C. R. Thayer, Mrs. Martha H. Taylor, Miss Susan J. Wentworth, Mrs. George D. Whittier and their election followed.

The nominating committee for the next year was reappointed: Rev. Alfred Gooding, Rev. Lucius H. Thayer, Mrs. D. P. Northwick.

A vote of thanks was extended to the Rockingham County Commissioners for the use of the rooms for a meeting place and for a supply closet. Thanks were also extended to Mr. C. W. Bass for the use of a supply closet.

The report of the Secretary of the Board of Managers was as follows:

The Board of Managers of the Portsmouth District Nursing Association has hereby presents to its membership and the public its annual report.

The work of the Association has been quietly and successfully carried on throughout the year. Our nurse, Mrs. Richardson has made 125 visits, meeting the fiscal year begins July 1. Of these 620 have been free, 267 patients have been treated.

Three years ago, that is, in November 1911, an agreement was made between the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and the Association by which our nurse was to be used for cases of illness among its policy holders, the company paying our Association a stated fee for each patient treated, but giving the services of the nurse to the policy holder. This has increased our revenues and has not been too much of an addition to the daily work. Mrs. Richardson has made 318 visits this year on Metropolitan Life Insurance Company patients.

In February of the present year the Insurance Company commenced paying out Association a larger fee for each patient, which action on its part was sincerely appreciated.

The Insurance Company has this year begun the granting of the services of a nurse for maternity cases among its policy holders, and an agreement was entered upon in January 1914, between the company and this Association whereby our nurse should include three cases in her work, making eight visits or less after the birth of the child.

The Board of Managers has held twelve meetings (beside the annual meeting) with an average attendance of seven. In May, this Association was the recipient of $60 from the N. H. State Branch, National Red Cross. We were sincerely appreciative of this contribution.

In the early spring the sum of $151.85 was received from the Rivermouth Dramatic Club, the proceeds of a play given by that organization for their benefit. The Association deeply appreciated the expenditure of time and effort which this action on the part of the Club meant, and was grateful for the kind interest thus evinced. A representative in our Board is yet to be appointed from the Club.

Two other organizations have entered our ranks, the Monday Evening Club, and the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church, and their representatives have been appointed.

There are at present twelve organizations contributing regularly. Twenty-five dollars, paid annually, entitles a person or organization to representation on the Board of Managers, with the right to vote on all questions arising at the monthly meetings. The Association now numbers 116 in its membership. Two dollars a year constitutes the membership fee, and the member is entitled to a vote at the annual meeting. The fiscal year begins July 1.

The Board has been called this year to mourn the loss of one of its number, its valued member, Mrs. Emil Richter, who has served the work since its inception in December, 1905. The membership also has suffered the loss of five by death, and four by removal from town. We should be very glad if others of our citizens would place their names upon our rolls and thus take upon their shoulders the responsibility which those who have left us so faithfully carried. The Association needs a larger membership in order to work more effectively. The fees from patients are of course inadequate for the support of the work. The services of the nurse are given free when the patient is absolutely unable to pay. A small charge is made when the patient can pay some, and full charge, 50 cents per hour is made in all persons in circumstances which warrant such charge.

In May our faithful nurse, Mrs. Emma S. Richardson, resigned, and at the June meeting of the Board her resignation was accepted, to take effect August 19, 1914. The Board hopes to secure a worthy successor to the two nurses who have earnestly labored for the Association during the nine years of its existence.

Donations of clothing have been received from the following persons:

Mrs. S. T. Ladd, Mrs. Agnes Bartlett, Mrs. Thomas Harris, Mrs. Scott MacDonald, Mrs. Charles Wiggin, Miss Susan Wentworth, Mrs. Charles Manning, Mrs. Fred Lyndon, Mrs. W. B. Clapp, Mrs. W. D. Grace, Miss Emily Bracelin, Mrs. Mary I. Wood, Miss Dorothy Adams, Mrs. Thomas Simms, Mrs. John Yarrowood, Mrs. Bradbury Sherwood, Mrs. G. C. Thayer, Miss Hogg, Mrs. Mary Hagan, Mrs. Annie Pryor, Mrs. C. W. Bass, Mrs. Horace Wiggins, A. Friend, Miss Grace Connor, Mrs. Thurston Parker, Mr. Oliver Ham, Mrs. Wm. IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat Which Forms Uric Acid

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and laggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, so you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore water clogs, and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia water drink.

The five master schooner Dorothy Palmer has been lying idle in the lower harbor for over two months. Now the five master Leighton Palmer, which recently discharged her cargo of coal in Portsmouth, is to join the Dorothy in her enforced vacation, and these two will soon have the company of the four master George E. Walcott now unloading at the coal docks. The three master Henry Whittington has been hauled up at the McElwain company's wharf all summer, being like the others, unable to get a charter. It is doubtful whether this amount of tonnage has ever laid idle during the summer in Portsmouth Harbor before, unless possibly during the civil war. President Wilson admits that a "physiological business depression" exists in the country, but the deepest dyed-in-the-wool Democrat can scarcely be satisfied with this explanation of the fact that many of the largest coasting vessels in the country are now hauled up idle in the various harbors North and South.

PLANS LAID FOR A BIG BONFIRE

Every indication points to a rousing celebration of the night before the Fourth and with a bon fire that will light up the entire city.

In response to the appeal, Fred A. Gray secured a permit from the Board of Public Works and he will personally look after the making of the pile, which assures a big one. Mr. Gray wants a number of young men to help him and will be able to use all of the big lads who can report on Friday morning to collect the wood. He also desires the assistance of the business men and citizens for boxes, barrels, etc., and if people who have such material will telephone 318-W it will be called for.

Zeus Woods has arisen to the occasion and has offered the service of his truck teams and his big auto truck to collect the material. The Rockingham Light and Power Co. have given a load of oil barrels and A. P. Wendell & Co. have also given a load of barrels, and 5 gallons of gasoline to start the fire properly.

John N. Pearson has given Mr. Gray 100 sticks of red fire and 100 Roman candles which will be distributed when the fire is started.

Many of the merchants have already started to clear out their extra boxes and barrels so that they may be hauled to the fire and if anybody who has material will but notify Mr. Gray he and his bustling assistants will do the rest.

There is a move on hand to hire the Eureka Flute and Drum Band to parade from eleven o'clock and march to the play grounds and play while the fire is on.

The play ground is an ideal place for a fire, for it endangers no property and may be seen by a great many people.

Get busy and do your share, and you young man, report for service on Friday morning, and the fire will be a rouser.

PORTSMOUTH THEATRE PROGRAMME

HOLDS UP MERGER OF BAY STATE ROADS

Boston, July 1.—The house today concurred with the senate in the passage of a bill calling upon the public service commission to begin immediately an investigation into the proposed merger of the street railways of this city and the suburbs. The bill was sent to the governor for his signature.

The merger proposal which was introduced in the senate recently, provides that the Boston Elevated, the Bay State lines, the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn narrow gauge road and the Newton belt line of the Boston and Albany railroad were to be joined. Provision of the electrification of the Revere Beach and Lynn road was made. The action today holds up the merger pending the public service commission report to the new legislature.

SALEM IS STILL IN NEED OF ASSISTANCE

Salem July 1.—Urgent need of more funds for the relief of the fire sufferers was emphasized at today's meeting of the relief committee. It was voted to re-issue the appeal for assistance made by the committee last Saturday night. The appeal follows:

"The calamity which has overtaken the city of Salem in the disastrous fire of Thursday, June 25, presents grave and pressing problems for relief.

"Briefly and as far as this committee has been able to ascertain the facts there are between 15,000 and 20,000 people mostly wage-earners representing probably between 3000 and 4000 families who have been rendered homeless and destitute.

"In addition to this and of far greater importance is the fact that the great majority are without employment due to the destruction of such industries as the cotton mills and many important factories which provided their employment. The problem of rehabilitation will of necessity be a long and expensive one. The committee representing the state and local relief committee appointed by the governor and city authorities makes this general appeal for money for the sufferers believing after careful investigation that the extent of the disaster justifies this action. Contributions may be sent to Mr. Gardiner M. Lane treasurer 44 State street Boston."

TO TRY AND PATCH UP DIFFERENCE

El Paso Texas July 1. Miguel Diaz Lombardo, constitutionalist representative at Paris called today that he would leave at once for El Paso. This was taken here as indicating that he would act as an impartial peace commissioner between Carranza and Villa in their yet unsettled arrangement.

Lombardo was minister of instruction in the cabinet of the late president Madero. He had been friendly with Villa since the Madero revolution is on good terms with Carranza and is a close friend of Gen. Felipe Angeles whose present relation with Villa has been credited as occasioning much of the ill feeling between the two factions of the constitutionalists.

It was learned today that the proposed conference between Villa and representatives of Carranza is far from complete. Alfonso Madero brother of the late president Santos Carranza the Peruvian poet who have been active recently in Mexican affairs and Alberto Paul one of Carranza's young advisers some days ago offer their services as mediators in the internal embroilment it was said. In the meantime Villa's heretofore successful campaign with Mexico City as the ultimate goal is delayed indefinitely.

Advices received by mail from Ciudad Juarez said that the second largest city in Mexico was about to be attacked by Gen. Obregon's troops. The revolutionists it was stated had cut off the water supply resulting in depriving the city of electric light and power.

LIBERTY'S SHRINE MECCA OF NATION ON FOURTH OF JULY

President Wilson to Speak to Whole Country From Independence Hall, Philadelphia, Where Nation Was Born.

Philadelphia is celebrating the Fourth of July this year upon a scale never before attempted. No other city is so rich in historic interest and none so well able to offer to the visitor an insight into the life of the nation in the days when the spirit of liberty had its birth. With the exception of 1876, when the whole country turned to Philadelphia and there celebrated the Centennial Year of American Independence, Philadelphia has had no such celebration as is planned for this year. The approaching Fourth of July celebration will surpass even that of the Centennial Year, in the fact that the President of the United States, attended by members of Congress, high government officials, and the Governors of the Thirteen Original States, will visit historic Independence Hall, the Shrine of Liberty, and there renew their vows of patriotism. President Wilson has accepted the invitation of the city and, in the press of grave national affairs will take time to deliver to the country at large an address upon matters which are of prime interest to every citizen of the United States.

In addition to the imposing ceremonies which will take place at Independence Hall, the city has planned for the entertainment of its visitors two great outdoor events which will be unique among civic celebrations. One is the great water carnival on the beautiful waters of the Schuykill river, a regatta at which thousands of water-craft gather each year, and in which races between the flower of the nation's oarsmen take place. The other is the great athletic field-day under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union, to be held for the first time this year, at Franklin Field, the University of Pennsylvania's athletic grounds. Four thousand athletes have received individual invitations to enter this meet. Champions of the international Olympic games, as well as "stars" of national prominence have been invited to the meet and a program of extraordinary brilliancy is assured to the 24,000 spectators who will be seated at Franklin Field.

No admission will be charged to any of these great events. The city welcomes its visitors to the best entertainment that can be found anywhere.

This celebration will provide exceptional opportunities for visitors to see with their own eyes the places about which every child is taught in school, but which for so many remain only names—the spots where the great men who laid the cornerstone of this government once walked and talked. The neighborhood bounded by a few squares in the old section of the city is a spot sanctified by the deeds accomplished for the progress of the human race. Within it stands Independence Hall, where the delegates from the thirteen colonies assembled and adopted the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States; Carpenter's Hall, where the First Continental Congress met; Christ Church, where Washington worshipped while he lived in Philadelphia during his term as President; and where the visitor is shown the rooms occupied by Franklin, Lafayette and a dozen other great men; the Betsy Ross House, where the first American flag was made in accordance with the commission from Congress, which order, as tradition has it, was delivered to Mistress Ross by Washington in person. Within this area stood the quaint house built for William Penn, on his first visit to America; the old London Coffee House, in which Leticia Penn lived 245 years ago, and which has been re-erected in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia's marvelous public gardens, next to Yellowstone Park the largest natural park in the country. Here stood the homes of Robert Morris, the financier of the Revolution; here Richard Penn courted and won the lovely Polly Masters. Here General Howe lived when the British troops occupied Philadelphia in 1777 and 1778. Here, on Christmas Day, 1780, Washington gave the first presidential levee. Here is the spot where Thomas Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence and bore it to Independence Hall, a square of two acres, for the signatures of the colonial delegates. Along these streets Washington walked with Hamilton, Jefferson, Adams and Madison, or rode with them in his coach and six. In Christ Church burial ground is the grave of Benjamin Franklin; Peyton Randolph, of Virginia, president of the First Continental Congress; Francis Hopkins, a signer of the Declaration, and many another brave soldier, and sailor or statesman of Revolutionary days.

Within the bounds of the great metropolis of today lies the village of Germantown, around whose picturesque stone mansions once raged one of the bloodiest battles of the revolution. Just outside the city, reached by a ride of a few miles through the beautiful Chester Valley, is Valley Forge, where the ragged Continental troops endured with matchless heroism the cold and starvation of the winter of 1778. A magnificent memorial arch has just been completed at Valley Forge, by national appropriation, and may seen for the first time. President Wilson and his suite will reach Philadelphia at 10.30 on the morning of the Fourth of July and go directly to the exercises at Independence Hall. The governors of the thirteen original states and other visiting dignitaries are expected to arrive on the day preceding and will be the guests of the city at special celebrations at Valley Forge and Germantown.

U. S. WARSHIPS RULE SAN DOMINGO WATERS

This Government, Through Its Navy, Virtually in Control of Situation.

United States warships are in virtual control of the situation in Santo Domingo, but this government, it is officially declared, will not actually intervene so long as lives and property of foreigners are not recklessly endangered by the contending factions.

Administration officials indicated today they thought the warring forces in the island republic had been sufficiently warned when the American gunboat Machias used her four-inch guns to silence the artillery of President Bordas, which was bombarding the rebel town of Puerto Plata.

There is sufficient American naval force in Dominican waters to carry out this government's policy. The big battleship, South Carolina with the equivalent of a regiment of soldiers aboard in her personnel is alongside the gunboat Machias in the harbor at Puerto Plata. The gunboat Castine is at Santo Domingo City and the gunboat Marston is at Sanchez on the northeast coast of the island, with other warships in adjacent waters.

Unofficial reports to the State and Navy Departments have long been to the effect that the present political situation may be protracted for several weeks or even months, so long as the government is in receipt of its regular stipend from the American customs collections and the insurgents are in possession of ports that are not blockaded and through which they easily receive all the munitions of war and supplies for which they are able to pay.

A remarkable feature of the situation is the very small number of persons involved in the actual rebellion and in the attempt to suppress the uprisings. For instance, it is reported that the siege of Puerto Plata, under President Bordas himself, has been maintained for three months by a couple of hundred soldiers, and that in the intervals between the actual fighting these soldiers and the rebels freely mingle in social intercourse.

Most of the revolutionary disturbance has been in the north, where Arias, a renegade governor, has successfully defied the Bordas government, aided by Horacio Vasquez, a candidate for the presidency against Bordas. The last eruption in the south which caused the bombardment of Azua appears to have been led by Felipe Vidal, also a former lieutenant of Bordas.

NOTICE.

The attention of citizens is hereby called to the following notice. The discharge of firearms of any description within the described area, to note: From Market Square through Market street to foot of Hanover, through Daniel to Penhallow, through Pleasant to State, through Congress to Middle, from Pleasant on State to Middle, is positively prohibited at all times.

The discharge of any sort of fireworks in any other part of the city of Portsmouth before Friday night at 6 o'clock, July 3, 1914, is also prohibited. Any person violating this order will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Per order,
MICHAEL HURLEY,
City Marshal.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Newburyport, July 1.—The body of an unknown man, with an arm and leg cut off, was found at the Parker street crossing of the Boston and Maine Road this morning. YOUNG BRIDE RETURNED TO FACE CHARGES

Marshall Hurley returned Wednesday evening, having in custody Clarence Parslow, the young wife of Clarence Parslow, who ran away from home here last week, taking with her her husband's chains, jewelry and money to the value of over $100 of his property. He also had her brother Bert Shattuck who has been arrested on a serious crime.

Shattuck's arrest followed the finding of a letter to his sister after she left this city which led the police to ask for a warrant for him. Marshall Hurley received a tip that they were away in the western part of the state and he left Tuesday morning after them. They had left that section and he traced them to Lowell and from there to North Reading where they were found living with their aunt.

They agreed to waive extradition and came back with the Marshall on the late train Wednesday and were locked up at the station for trial this forenoon.

At the station Mrs. Parslow stated that everything she took was her own personal property and that she did not care to live with her husband again.

SHONTTELL SEEKS NOMINATION

A number of active Progressives have circulated a request to Mr. Shontell that he become the candidate of the Progressives as well as that of the Republicans. The petition thus circulated reads as follows:

"To the Hon. Frederick W. Shontell, Manchester, N. H.

"We, the undersigned, as individual members of the Progressive party, but expressing so far as we are able to determine, the unanimous sentiment of the Progressives of the first congressional district, request you to announce your candidacy, as a Progressive, for congress. We are moved to do this because we believe that it is essential to the prosperity of the people of this district that a protectionist should represent them in congress; because, we believe in your integrity, ability and courage properly and wisely to act for them in Washington; because we believe in your devotion to the principles of the Progressive party; and finally because we are confident that your candidacy as a Progressive will result in your election.

Mr. Shontell has sent the following reply to the request that he become a candidate:

"Manchester, N. H., June 29, 1914.
To Samuel O. Titus and others:
"Gentlemen—I acknowledge the receipt of your communication of June 22, 1914, requesting me to announce my candidacy as a Progressive for the nomination for congress in this district. I deeply appreciate this evidence of your confidence in me as a fellow Progressive, and hope fully to merit it now and always. My answer is that I feel it my duty to be a candidate for the office, as you request. I agree with you that it is essential that a protectionist represent this district.

"Many of my friends among the Republicans, feeling the same way upon this question, have urged me to authorize the placing of my name upon the Republican primary ticket also. Because the difference between the Progressive and Republican parties on the question of the tariff is inconsequential, and because I feel confident of success if so nominated by both parties, I have expressed to them a willingness to accept such a nomination if secured. Sincerely,
"FREDERICK W. SHONTTELL."

CANDIDATES
WERE BUSYDemocratic Leaders Here
With the Glad Hand.

The local democratic politicians were busy on Wednesday while the two proposed candidates for governor, John C. Hutchings of North Stratford, and Albert W. Noone of Peterboro, N. H., were in this city. In the evening there was a gathering of the leaders of the party at the Hotel Wentworth and both Hutchings and Noone took all the opportunity they could to strengthen their political fences in this district.

O'Leary Resigns

Timothy O'Leary, for the past six years watchman at the ferry landing on Daniel street, rendered his resignation today to take effect on July 16. He resigns to give his time to the express business which he started a year ago. He was formerly employed by the Boston Elevated Railroad and has since his appointment to the position.

Program for Wednesday and Thursday, Eight Reels of Specially Selected Subjects.

"The Embezzler," two-reel Kray-lee drama. For twenty years a man was the trusted accountant of an old firm. He spent his life savings in his declining years for comforts for his little invalid grand-daughter. When the doctor told him that the only chance she had of living was to get to the country, the old man took the money belonging to the firm. The action of the film when the books were audited creates a heart interest that will appeal to all.

"The Heart's Highway," two-reel Kray-lee drama. The story tells how a young wife of lovely birth, through her devotion to her husband, wins over the love of his noble mother.

"Miss Nobody from Nowhere," two-reel Imp drama, with Ethel Grandin and Hubert Henley. A girl, brought up in the slums, is discovered by a dancing master, and after her brother abuses her she appeals to her now found friend for protection. He secures work for her in a big production, but is discovered at work by her brother, who blackmails her. Dandy retribution overtakes him in the end and leaves his sister to her happiness.

Mutual Girl.
"Mombaby and the Bombs," Royal comedy.

Miss Barron will sing, "Beautiful Roses," Leo Feist; and "Along Came Ruth," Watterston, Berlin and Snyder, publishers.

Coming Friday, "Perils of Pauline," seventh episode of the famous $25,000 prize contest picture, by the Pathé Players, in two parts; "The Soul of Honor," two reel Majestic drama; and "Out of the Far East," two reel Imp drama.

ation in March, 1908, handled the government work with much activity and system.

Only One of Board Here.

Up to noon today Capt. Henry B. Wilson was the only member of the board of inspection and survey to put in appearance at the yard, consequently the inspection of the Wheeling and Petrel will take place on Friday.

No Need of Alarm.

Information has reached the yard to the effect that the work of starting the submarine boat will shortly begin and that there is no need of any alarm about a change being made relative to the construction of the boat.

Secretary Howe at Yard.

Louis McIl Howe, private secretary to Assistant Secretary Franklin D. Roosevelt, of the navy, was at the yard today where he made a tour of the entire reservation and held interviews with the heads of the several departments.

List Made Up.

The list of condemned material for the roofing and siding has been sent to Washington for approval by the department and the sale will likely be held in August.

ROSE SHOWER.

Miss Brewster Entertains in Honor of Miss Borthwick's Coming Marriage.

Miss Marie Brewster gave a "Rose Shower" to Miss Elsie Borthwick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Borthwick, of this city, at her parents' cottage at Wallis Sands on Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock, pertinent to her recent engagement.

The house was decorated in roses in every conceivable place. The feature of the afternoon was the "rose search." The roses were placed all over the room and the girls hunted for them. There with stems had gifts attached and Miss Borthwick was laden down with the fruits of her search, the gifts including many pretty things of china, silver, linen, etc. The game of "hearts" was enjoyed, four tables being in play. At the conclusion of cards, a dainty rose luncheon consisting of salads, sandwiches, oysters, fancy cakes, fancy crackers, ices, and fruit punch, was served by the hostess.

A delightful afternoon was enjoyed and at their departure the girls wished both the hostess and guest of honor all kinds of good wishes and thanked them for the good time they had afforded them.

EXERCISES AT
ISLES OF SHOALS

Members of Plymouth Business School Enjoy Banquet and Dance.

A party of fifty-one, including the graduates, friends, members of the Alumni Association and teachers of the Plymouth Business School enjoyed a banquet and dance at the Oceanic Hotel on Wednesday evening.

The party left the wharf on the steamer Juliette for the Isles of Shoals at six o'clock and upon arrival enjoyed a fine banquet.

Following this, Miss Charlotte E. Wright, senior teacher of the Plymouth Business school, conferred the diplomas upon the members of the graduating class of 1914.

The following are the graduates: Bookkeeping and Shorthand Course—Miss Marion Josephine Leach of Elliot, Me., Miss Eleanor Wingate Teich of this city.

Bookkeeping and Accounts—Miss Celia Violet Ingraham, South Rivergate, Vermont; Miss Ella Pearl Conrad of this city; Miss Edna Thelma Caswell of York, Me.; Miss Sarah Marie Ham, Angus J. O'Brien and George William Loneragan of this city.

Shorthand and Typewriting—Miss Elizabeth Adelle Hall, Elliot; Harold Lee Roy Gibson of Ite, and Arthur Gorman of this city.

This was followed by a social and dance. At ten-thirty the party took their departure for this city, and singing and music was enjoyed on the boat coming home. The young people enjoyed the excursion immensely.

The party was chaperoned by Miss Charlotte E. Wright, Mrs. E. Louise Perry of Boston and Mrs. Alice E. Sanford.
